AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT (ADA)

I. Americans with Disabilities Act, General Statement

- A. The City of Cleveland will provide reasonable accommodation to an otherwise qualified applicant or employee with a disability. "Qualified" is defined as possessing the requisite skills, education, and experience to be able to perform the essential functions of the job with or without reasonable accommodation.
- B. An employee may request accommodation to enable him/her to perform the essential functions of the employee's current position or to accommodate a disability to enable the employee to enjoy the benefits and privileges extended to all employees.

II. Accommodations Review Committee

- A. If an employee is unable to perform the essential functions of his/her position, the employee may submit a Request for Accommodation form to the appointing authority with supporting documentation. (See form A-1-1).
- B. The Request for Accommodation form along with supporting medical documentation will be considered by the City's Accommodation Review Committee.
- C. When the Accommodation Review Committee determines that an employee is qualified under ADA, it will direct the employee's affected department or division concerning the accommodation to be provided.
- D. If reassignment to an alternative position becomes a means of accommodation because the employee can no longer perform the essential functions of his or her current position, the City will:
 - 1. Meet with the employee to assess the employee's skill/education level;
 - 2. Place that employee on an alternative placement list, pending a job vacancy to become available within a reasonable time;
 - 3. Actively look for a position that meets the employee's skill/educational level and medical restrictions.
 - 4. Assess the availability of a suitable position consistent with Civil Service rules.

CITY OF CLEVELAND

- E. The City is not required to retain an employee's current rate of pay if that employee is placed in another position as an accommodation.
- F. If a suitable position is not identified within a reasonable period of time from the Alternative Placement recommendation date, the Review Committee will close that employee's request. For purposes of this policy, "reasonable period of time" is based upon the interactive process and that employee's particular circumstances.

Dear Employee

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, the City of Cleveland has developed a process through which you can request accommodation to enable you to perform the essential functions of your current position and/or enjoy the benefits and privileges enjoyed by other employees.

- c. being regarded as having such impairment.

The determination of whether or not a person has a disability can involve both medical and legal issues.

Further, in order for the Committee to make an informed decision in a timely fashion, you MUST submit the following:

- ♦ Have your physician fill out the first two (2) pages of this package. Starting from Intake Filled out through question eight on the second page.
- ♦ Request from your physician any and all medical records pertaining to your disability as it relates to this request and attach it to the request.*

BENEFIT COVERAGE

I. Health, Dental and Vision Care Coverage

- A. All eligible full-time employees may elect single or family medical, dental, and vision care.
- B. Information regarding each of the benefit providers for the City of Cleveland will be given to a new employee during orientation by the Department of Human Resources.
 - 1. The employee must register online through the City of Cleveland Self Service (ESS) at <https://portal.adp.com>. Instruction will be given to a new employee during orientation by the Department of Personnel and Human Resources. An email address is required as part of the registration process. An employee's failure to go online to complete the registration process in a timely manner may result in a delay of coverage.
 - 2. It is the personnel representative's responsibility to assist the employee in enrolling in coverage. The personnel representative must forward applicable documentation to the Department of Human Resources, Division of Employee Relations/Benefits, no later than seven calendar days after Orientation.
- C. Health, dental and vision care coverage, begins on the first day of the month following the employee's date of employment.

 - 1. No employee and/or dependent may be covered by more than one City sponsored plan. This would be consistent with dual coverage which is not permissible for City of Cleveland Employees. Dual coverage is signified by City of Cleveland employees who share dependents on each of their benefit plans.
 - 2. A dependent of a City employee who is hired by the City must elect his or her own coverage or he/she can remain on their parent/guardians policy. He/she cannot have dual coverage.

The birth certificate of the stepchild must show the name of the employee's spouse as one of the birth parents, and the marriage certificate must be one file.
 - a. NOTE: The Social Security number of each covered spouse and child is required for health care enrollment and must be entered in the City of Cleveland's Employee Self Service (ESS) portal. If no benefit elections have been made, the employee will default to no coverage. If benefit elections have been made and we are waiting for documentation, the employee will be enrolled with single coverage. This election will remain in place until the next open enrollment, unless there is an additional status change.

F. Dependents With Disabilities

If the employee's child is disabled when insurance would terminate due to the child's age, insurance may be continued. The employee should consult the

HEALTH INSURANCE PORTABILITY AND ACCOUNTABILITY ACT (HIPAA)

I. Introduction

City employees are eligible for benefits under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), signed into law on August 21, 1996. The law provides for portability and continuity of health insurance coverage.

II. HIPAA Protections - Groups:

HIPAA includes protections for coverage under group health plans that:

- A. Limit exclusions for preexisting conditions. The law defines a preexisting condition as one for which medical advice, diagnosis, care, or treatment was recommended or received during the six month period prior to an individual's enrollment date. Group health plans and issuers may not exclude an individual's preexisting medical condition from coverage for more than 12 months (18 months for late enrollees) after an individual's enrollment date.
- B. Prohibit discrimination against employee and dependents based on their health status.
- C. Allow a special opportunity to enroll in a new plan to individuals in certain circumstances (separation, divorce, death, termination of employment, reduction in hours, marriage, birth, adoption or placement for adoption).

III. Eligibility: Creditable Coverage under HIPAA

The City of Cleveland provides creditable coverage, such as coverage under a group health plan (including COBRA continuation coverage), HMO, individual health insurance policies, and Medicaid or Medicare.

IV. Additional Information

For additional information or questions regarding HIPAA, contact the Department of Human Resources, Division of Employee Relations/Benefits.

The Family & Medical Leave Act (FMLA) as amended provides “eligible” employees with unpaid leave for the following reasons:

1. Serious Health Condition
 2. Qualifying Military Exigency
 3. Service member Family Leave
- Serious Health Condition: The Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) as amended provides eligible employees of covered employers with up to 12 weeks of leave with or without pay in a 12-month period for the employee’s own serious health condition, for the birth, adoption or foster care placement of a child with the employee and to care for a child, spouse or parent who has a serious health condition. This leave may run concurrently with paid leave or unpaid medical leave.
 - Qualifying Exigency: The FMLA Expansion Law (2008) provides “eligible employees” with up to 12 weeks of leave without pay in a 12-month period. A qualifying exigency arises when the spouse, son, daughter, or parent of an employee is on active duty or has been notified of an impending call or order to active duty in the Armed Forces in support of a contingency operation. Examples of a “qualifying exigency” leave are:

1. To arrange for child care
2. To see a child off or welcome child home
3. To attend pre-deployment briefings
4. To attend family support meetings
5. To attend reintegration briefings

1. Service Member Family Leave: The FMLA Expansion Law (2008) provides an "eligible employee" who is the spouse, son, daughter, parent or next of kin of a covered service member with a total of 26 workweeks of leave during a 12-month period* to care for the service member. *This limitation on leave does not apply to other FMLA qualifying conditions.

A. An employee's job and benefits are protected during FMLA leave.

- A. Eligibility for FMLA Leave--An employee must be employed by the City of Cleveland (City) for at least 12 months and have worked at least 1250 hours during the 12-month period immediately preceding the commencement of the leave.
 1. For purposes of the 12-month requirement, "employed" means on the active payroll. Time spent on worker's compensation leave, sick leave, and vacation is to be counted for purposes of determining if an employee satisfies the 12-month requirement.
 2. For purposes of the 1250 hours requirement, the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) measure for "hours worked" is used (i.e. time when the employee must be on duty on the work premises primarily for the employer's benefit).

B. Length of Leave

1. The Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) as amended provides eligible employees of covered employers with up to 12 weeks of leave with or without pay in a 12-month period for the employee's own serious health condition, for the birth, adoption or foster care placement of a child with the employee, to care for a child, spouse or parent who has a serious health condition, or for a qualifying military exigency. This leave may run concurrently with paid leave or unpaid medical leave.

Your Employee Rights Under the Family and Medical Leave Act

What is FMLA leave?

The Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) is a federal law that provides eligible employees with job-protected leave for qualifying family and medical reasons. The U.S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division (WHD) enforces the FMLA for most employees.

Eligible employees can take up to 12 workweeks of FMLA leave in a 12-month period for:

- The birth, adoption or foster placement of a child with you,
- Your serious mental or physical health condition that makes you unable to work,
- To care for your spouse, child or parent with a serious mental or physical health condition, and
- Certain qualifying reasons related to the foreign deployment of your spouse, child or parent who is a military servicemember.

An eligible employee who is the spouse, child, parent or next of kin of a covered servicemember with a serious injury or illness may take up to 26 workweeks of FMLA leave in a single 12-month period to care for the servicemember.

You have the right to use FMLA leave in one block of time. When it is medically necessary or otherwise permitted, you may take FMLA leave intermittently in separate blocks of time, or on a reduced schedule by working less hours each day or week. Read Fact Sheet #28M(c) for more information.

FMLA leave is not paid leave, but you may choose, or be required by your employer, to use any employer-provided paid leave if your employer's paid leave policy covers the reason for which you need FMLA leave.

Am I eligible to take FMLA leave?

You are an eligible employee if all of the following apply:

- You work for a covered employer,
- You have worked for your employer at least 12 months,
- You have at least 1,250 hours of service for your employer during the 12 months before your leave, and
- Your employer has at least 50 employees within 75 miles of your work location.

Airline flight crew employees have different "hours of service" requirements.

You work for a covered employer if one of the following applies:

- You work for a private employer that had at least 50 employees during at least 20 workweeks in the current or previous calendar year,
- You work for an elementary or public or private secondary school, or
- You work for a public agency, such as a local, state or federal government agency. Most federal employees are covered by Title II of the FMLA, administered by the Office of Personnel Management.

How do I request FMLA leave?

Generally, to request FMLA leave you must:

- Follow your employer's normal policies for requesting leave,
- Give notice at least 30 days before your need for FMLA leave, or
- If advance notice is not possible, give notice as soon as possible.

You do not have to share a medical diagnosis but must provide enough information to your employer so they can determine whether the leave qualifies for FMLA protection. You must also inform your employer if FMLA leave was previously taken or approved for the same reason when requesting additional leave.

Your employer may request certification from a health care provider to verify medical leave and may request certification of a qualifying exigency.

The FMLA does not affect any federal or state law prohibiting discrimination or supersede any state or local law or collective bargaining agreement that provides greater family or medical leave rights.

State employees may be subject to certain limitations in pursuit of direct lawsuits regarding leave for their own serious health conditions. Most federal and certain congressional employees are also covered by the law but are subject to the jurisdiction of the U.S. Office of Personnel Management or Congress.

What does my employer need to do?

If you are eligible for FMLA leave, your employer must:

- Allow you to take job-protected time off work for a qualifying reason,
- Continue your group health plan coverage while you are on leave on the same basis as if you had not taken leave, and
- Allow you to return to the same job, or a virtually identical job with the same pay, benefits and other working conditions, including shift and location, at the end of your leave.

Your employer cannot interfere with your FMLA rights or threaten or punish you for exercising your rights under the law. For example, your employer cannot retaliate against you for requesting FMLA leave or cooperating with a WHD investigation.

After becoming aware that your need for leave is for a reason that may qualify under the FMLA, your employer must confirm whether you are eligible or not eligible for FMLA leave. If your employer determines that you are eligible, your employer must notify you in writing:

- About your FMLA rights and responsibilities, and
- How much of your requested leave, if any, will be FMLA-protected leave.

Where can I find more information?

Call 1-866-487-9243 or visit dol.gov/fmla to learn more.

If you believe your rights under the FMLA have been violated, you may file a complaint with WHD or file a private lawsuit against your employer in court. Scan the QR code to learn about our WHD complaint process.
